VOL. 11.

The Champions of Religious Liberty to be Honored with a Monument!!!

[BY OUR OWN REPORTER.]

RICHMOND, May 28th, 1873. DEAR NEWS :- Your reporter reached Richmond to-day at 1 P. M., Wednes-day 28th, and found the Baptist part of this community profoundly excited over Notices Inserted Under the "Special City Items" head at 15 Cents per line for first insertion, and 10 cents per line for each subsequent is a Baptist.

But what sort of a meeting is a Memorial meeting? Well, I'll give you its history. Last June, the General Association of the Baptists of Virginia, held their 49th session in Staunton. As the present session would be the jubilee of the body, it was resolved to commemorate it by some signal achievement. This purpose took shape as set forth in the following statement and resolutions:

1773-In the territory now known as Virginia and West Virginia, there were about sixty Baptist churches, forty ministers, and three thousand communicants. Our fathers were then in the crisis of the conquering struggle for religious freedom. 1823-"The Virginia Baptist General Association" was organized with fifteen delegates-Rev. Dr. R. B. Semple, Price. moderator. There were then in the and communicants. 1873 - There are in the same territory one thousand three hundred and thirtythree churches, seven hundred and for- J. C. McRae. ty-seven ministers, and one hundred and fifty thousand communicants.

1873—is a jubilee year as related to 1873-is a Memorial year as related

We look back over the century with thanksgiving to Almingty God for the grace bestowed upon us.

As a fitting expression of our gratitude for the past, and of our purpose to carry forward the work of our fathers into the future, it has been proposed by the General Association, and enthusiastically endorsed by the people in all sections, that we shall raise and invest in permanent securities, never to Eastern-Charleston, S. coming ages.

The best investment of such memo rial fund, it is believed, will be in the form of endowment for Richmond Col-

1. Because the fund will thus be a perpetual one, the interest devoted to annual use. 2. Because educated mind, controlled by Christian principles, is the mightiest conceivable influence for good. 3. Because the perpetuation of a cultivated, godly ministry, is sure to carry with it every other good work.

It is proposed also to raise on the College-grounds a modest, enduring monument, in memory of the godly, heroic men who bravely endured perse cution and imprisonment in maintaining and establishing the doctrine of religious liberty. A record will be kept, enrolling every church and, as far as possible, every individual in the State, and in other States, contributing to this fund.

A memorial volume will be published at the closing up of the enterprise, containing an outline of the history of the struggle for religious freedom in Vir- elected. ginia, biographical sketches of impris-Fishing excursions are the order of the oned and persecuted ministers; minutes, day with our young men, and the luck addresses and documents connected the contributors to the fund. $25 and over, to the fund.

This magnificent scheme, I am told, originated in the fruitful brain of Mr. owners of that splendid property, the Richmond Dispatch. I wish to say a word about him in passing. Mr. Eilyson is known to be a wise and skilful politician, but the world don't know that he is one of the wisest and most devoted and most unselfish christian workers in the land. For many years, without fee or reward, he has conducted the missionary operations of the Baptists in this State, and the success which has attended his labors is sufficiently evinced when I have stated that Virginia is the banner State of this denomination in the Union. But the crowning work of his life was the conception of Syme, our reporter at the Fayetteville this great memorial offering, and his name will go down to pesterity honored for having originated one of the most splendid enterprises of this century. For nearly a year now this work has been pushed with extraordinary vigor and liberality, and the spiric manifested by pastors and churches has been noble indeed. For more than seven months Dr. Bemere's Church, the largest in Richmond of any denomination, gave up their pastor wholly to this great enterprise. The churches of Drs. Holstin Belting, Taylor, indeed about thirty of the largest churches in the State, told their pastors to go out into the field and work for this good cause, and the results accomplished have been wonderful indeed. Not only has a large amount of money been realized, but the Lord has fulfilled his word in pouring out his blessing on those who honored him with in the front ranks of Insurance Com Office. their substance, and this will be known as the year of great revivals among the churches. The year has expired, and from all parts of Virginia, and from the North and the South, hundreds have come together to rejoice over the success of this great effort. But enough for this time. To-morrow I will give your readers the proceedings of the great day of the feast, which will take place in a tabernacle erected in the College campus that will room for several thousand more.

RALEIGH MANUFACTURERS .- The following communication we give space to as it is a just and merited compliment to one of the best mechanics in the city. From the well known reputation of Mr, Pirsson, and the universal satisfaction he has rendered to the public, we believe that Raleigh has the best piane manufactory of any city in the South:

MR. EDITOR:-I hope you will pardon me if I encroach upon your valuable time, and not consider me presumptions if I request you to publish the follow-

About a week ago Dr. Smedes of St. Mary's, sent a piano manufactured by the Great Union Company, in New York, for which Mr. Jas. Pirsson is the agent, to the latter gentleman for repairs. This instrument was sold by Mr. P. to Dr. Smedes some two and a half years ago, and had been played upon daily in the institution for hours, few have any idea what an ordeal an instrument has to go under when used for two consecutive years in a female seminary. The piano in question arrived at Mr. P's wareroom in a deplorable condition, evidently having passed through the rough hands of some contemptible im poster who repairs pianos when he has not the first conceivable idea of their construction. I venture this assertion after I saw the action had been shamefully tampered with, hammers mutilated, wrong strings attached, etc. On the whole the instrument had been badly handled and required a thorough overhauling.

Mr. Pirsson immediately proceeded to repair damages and after two days workhe had the satisfaction of having restored the patient to its former health. Yesterday I casually called at the warerooms, played upon the Piano and was amazed at the change. Mr. Pirsson had entirely reproduced, that uniform softness throughout, the sonority of the lower and middle keys as well as the brilliancy of the treble, qualities for which the instruments of the great Union Company are so justly celebrated. In fact and I state this candidly and impartially "the instrument is now in every particular as good as ever, Thinking that such clever workmanship and superior skill deserves the highest praise, I cannot refrain from submitting these facts to the public.

J. D. THE N. C. FERTILIZING COMPANY .-The stockholders of this proposed Company met at the Humphrey House in Goldsboro, yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, some sixty being present, and some seventy shares being represented by proxy. The counties of Wake, Granville, Franklin, Warren, Halifax, Northampton, Nash, Edgecombe, Wilson, Wayne, Greene, Duplin, Simpson, New Hanover, Johnson and Cumberland had delegates present. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Wm. S. Battle being appointed Chairman, and Messrs. Jordan Stone and R. H. Jones being requested to act as Secretaries. No permanent organization could be effected, under the requirements of the General Incorporation Act of 1872, until notice thereof had been advertised twenty-one days in the county in which the business of the [Company would be transacted, and hence the meeting only considered the questions of the location of the Company's business headquarters, the arranging of service in accordance with the the charter, and the location of the provisions of the Act of March 3d last. factory of the Company. On the third ballot Goldsboro was selected as the Atlanta and New Orleans, via West business headquarters by a vote of 63 | Point, Montgomery and Mobile; between tor Goldsboro, 53 for Raleigh and 9 for Louisville and Memphis, and between Tarboro.

At the time our reporter left, the question of the location of the factory was being discussed, with what result we do not know. Several gentlemen from Raleigh are under obligations to Superintendent J. D. Green, of the N. C. Railroad, for delaying his train at Goldsboro yesterday evening for their accommodation.

THE BABCOCK FIRE EXTINGUISHER. -We witnessed on Wednesday evening an exhibition of the Babcock Fire Extinguisher in which a full and fair test of the Fire King was brought out. A large heap of pine wood stacked up like a coal kiln, in the centre of which was placed combustibles in shape of lightwood, shavings, kindling wood, &c. When set on fire the flames soon the pioneer of the North Carolina Home overspread the entire pile, and was under full headway when the extinguisher commenced its play. In less than three minutes the flames were' subdued. There is no doubt in our mind but that the extinguisher is a complete success and should not only be adopted as an auxiliary to city and town Fire frequently deserved by bachelors. OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD;

Or Testimony from the Battle Fields. Under the above title I propose to publish first in newspaper, and subsequently in book form, a series of articles giving the war record of North Carolina from the election of Lincoln in Nov., 1860, to the close of the war between the States in May, 1865. My plan embraces three divisions:

1st. Accounts of each skirmish and battle on the soil, or upon the waters of North Carolina.

on the soil, or upon the waters of North Carolina.

2d. Accounts of every battle fought during the war on the soil of any State, in which any of the troops of North Carolina took part—especial care being taken to show what those troops did and suffered in each of those battles, and what glory and renown our officers and men fairly won,

3d. "A southern Chart for all time." An explanation of the third division of the proposed plan will be submitted at a later day.

proposed plan will be submitted at a later day.

That I may successfully accomplish this arduous, but pleasing self-imposed work, I invoke the aid of all my brother soldiers, and ask them to furnish me material which, can be arranged and digested so as to form a complete record of the heroic deeds of the sons of North Carolina upon the battle fields of the Confederacy; and especially do I ask all who can write to furnish me details of every battle in which they participated, and the part borne by their immediate commands.

The time may not have come to write pated, and the part borne by their immediate commands.

The time may not have come to write this portion of North Carolina's History; but it has come to collect material and arrange it for the use of the future historian. The living actors will soon pass away, and much valuable imformation, unless gathered now, will be lost forever. Hence, after waiting for several years for some one more competent to undertake the task, I have determined to devote the remaining years of my life to this labor icf love. I yield to none in love for my native State, or in admiration for the gallant men who have shed imperishable glory upon her.

I prefer to give these accounts first in newspaper form, in order that omissions and errors, if any occur, may be pointed out, and corrected before the work shall pass into the more enduring form, which it will assume the more enduring form, which it will assume should it prove what I desire to make it, a valuable acquisition to the war record of the South, Several of the prominent actors in the Several of the prominent actors in the war have already promised their co-operation and the valuable aid of their pens to lessen my labors and to make the work complete, and I hope to enlist an army of valuable co-laborers in the good cause as readily as did North Carolina enlist her sons to fight the battles of the "Lost Cause." General officers from other States who commanded North Carolina troops, are respectfully asked to give me all the information in their possession, relative to the conduct and bearing of those troops.

In endeavoring to do justice to the soldiers of my native State, I certainly shall most carefully abstain from doing injustice to those from any other.

My brethren of the press will confer a favor by giving the whole, or such part of this Prospectus as they may deem proper, one or more insertions, calling attention thereto.

FRIDAY ..

TREASON IN JACK'S CAMP—CAN TRAITORS BE TRUSTED? Our dispatches this morning bring singular intelligence from the Modoc

MAY 30, 1878.

The warriors who surrendered a few days ago to Gen. Dayis, have made a proposition which has been accepted essay. by that officer, who is satisfied of the loyalty of the prisoners.

That proposition is to kill or capture Jack and his faithful followers. The warriors who have made this offer were recently Jack's most trusted Lieutenants, and have rendered signal service against the United States troops. Boston Charley, Steamboat Frank, Hooker Jim, and the other Jim with the long name, all quite famous characters, have entered into the treacherous plot against their quondam Chief, and have joined the ranks of the pale faces.

After a conference with Gen. Davis and a ride through the lava beds, they have been supplied with four days' rations, with horses and Springfield rifles, and have started in pursuit of Jack and his devoted little Nothwithstanding Gen. Davis' confidence in the good faith of the warriors who have abandoned the cause of the Modocs, we must be permitted to express our doubts as to their sincerity and to be somewhat incredulous about their making good their promises.

After the treacherous conduct of the Modocs in their interview with Gen. Canby and the Peace Commissioners, it would take something more than protessions of loyalty to convince us that any faith can be placed in that race of Ir dians.

Bogus Charley was one of the prominent actors in the tragedy in which Canby lost his life. He will betray Davis as he did Canby.

There is no reliance to be placed in traitors, because we can never feel sure that they will not betray us at the first opportunity.

The employment by General Davis of the Modoc prisoners to capture Jack and his remaining followers, who have determined to die with their riftes in their hands, is an acknowledgment of styling the latter beautiful in theory, the inability of the Government troops but founded in error, the Doctor arto do so, and is a virtual surrender to gued the military skill and sagacity of the

dy to Brooklyn, in a malignant form.

This terrible disease, which to the first time swept over the country last | well's address, certainly in a literary second visitation at this season of the year would produce the most alarming consequences.

It would be a calamity to the farmers, both North and South, of incalculable injury, and would seriously affect every interest and profession.

It would be a serious blow to our agricultural operations, which would be felt in every circle of trade and business in the land.

It may be that the disease which has appeared among the horses in Brooklyn is not the epizooty, but some malady of a local character, which will be confined to that section.

After the horse malady made its appearance in New York City last Fall, it rapidly spread to the adjoining States, and in a few days reached Virginia and North Carolina and extended southward. If the disease has re-appeared at the North, as stated in our dispatches, we cannot hope to escape its terrible effects. If it comes South during the month of June and July, the crops of cotton and corn will be seriously damaged, and in many instances almost totally ruined. It has been proved by experience that a horse affected with epizooty cannot be used without dangerous and generally fatal consequences to the animal. As ploughing cannot be dispensed with in the months above mentioned, the farmers will be in a terrible situation if the disease should re visit the South before Dr. Satchwell." the crops are laid by.

DRS. SATCHWELL AND NOR-COM.

In an editorial on the Medical So ciety of North Carolina, the day after its adjournment at Statesville, we referred to the fact that the subjects which had been discussed at its annual meetings had attracted the attention of European as well as American journals of medicine.

In May, 1868, when the Convention met in Warrenton, Dr. W. A. B. Noreom, of Edenton, delivered the annual eddress, subject : "The Modern Treatment of Acute Internal Inflammations."

The next annual meeting of the Society was held at Salisbury, in May, 1869. At that meeting, Dr. S. S. Satchwell was appointed to report upon the "Topography and Prevailing Diseases of New Hanover County.

In May, 1870, the Medical Society met an Wilmington, and Dr. Satchwell read since his return from Washington city on essay upon the subject selected for is slowly regaining his usual health. him at the previous meeting. voted forty pages to the subject of "The General Treatment of Fevers and Acute Internal Inflammations," in which he answered the address delivered by Dr. Norcom at Warrenton, in 1868. Dr. Satchwell strongly opposed the views and arguments of Dr. Norcom, who is an advocate of the doctrines of "Todd, Bennett and Co."

In May, 1871, Dr. Satchwell did not attend the annual meeting of the Society, which was held in the city of Raleigh, and Dr. Norcom did not reply to his

In May, 1872, the Medical Convention met at Newbern, and on the second day of the session. when oral communications were in order, we quote from the official proceedings, Dr. Norcom "addressed the Society at length upon the treatment of Acute Internal Inflammation in opposition to the views expressed by Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of New Hanover at a former meeting. After considerable discussion by Drs. Norcom and Satchwell, it was moved by the latter, and the motion prevailed, that the discussion be postponed till the atternoon and night session of the second day of the next annual meeting."

The discussion was resumed at Statesville at the recent meeting, and a correspondent of the Wilmington Journal gives an interesting account of the MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY. speeches of the distinguished debaters.

"At the session last year Drs. Norcom and Satchwell were appointed to discuss the subject of "Acute Inflammations"-manner of treatment, &c. So, upon the reassembling of the Convention for its afternoon session, by previous arrangement, Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of New Hanover, began, and for two and a quarter hours held spell bound with earnest attention, not only the medical fraternity, but many others who had been attracted thither to hear the debate. As I listened, I could but think, if the Doctor's late address before the Alumni of New York College approximated this, how just and merited was the praise awarded, for rarely has it been my lot to enjoy such a literary treat.

The Doctor commenced by saying that thought was never so active as now, nquiry never so free, investigation so bold, all things being tested by the touchstone of experience, reason, logic, revelation, and an enlightened progress.

The Doctor then stated that no subject had been the cause of more inquiry among the profession than "Inflammation;" of its causes, its pathology, etc., countless have been the theories. Laving down these as a basis of what he termed conservatism versus restorative, at length, stating that he believed in conservatism in medicine as well as in law, politics or religion. Vain would be the attempt to follow Dr. Satchwell through his long his views. Most nobly did he support Our New York dispatches to-day them by argument strong and able, chronicle the return of the horse mala- while his peroration was truly grand, his allusion to North Carolina and to the profession in the State being highly appreciated. Of the merit of Dr. Satch-Fall and Winter, inflicted great trouble | point of view, the Doctors, even, did not and inconvenience everywhere, and a disagree, some going so far as to pronounce it the ablest production that had ever been delivered before their body. A short recess and Dr. Norcom, of Edenton, began his reply, combating in a skillful manner the arguments of Dr. Satchwell, pronouncing some of his theories as effectually exploded as anything could be. Citing authority upon authority from leading physicians of this and other countries in support of the views he entertained, he doubtless convinced some of the brethren of their correctness, while the unlearned felt pleasure at the handsome manner in which he acquitted himself." We of course know nothing of the merits of the two systems advocated respectively by Doctors Norcem and Satchwell, nor do we of course intend to take any part in the discussion, Dr. Satchwell is an old practitioner and enjoyed a high reputation in his profession before the war. We understand his speech, which will be published in full, is a scathing review of the articles of Drs. Gaillard of the Richmond and Louisville Medical Journal, and of Dr. Anstie, of the London Practitioner, who commented quite severely, and as Dr. Satchwell thinks unjustly, on his essay before the North Carolina Medical Society at Wilmington, in 1870. In the language of the Wilmington Star, in regard to Dr. Satchwell's reply to Drs. Gaillard and Anstie: "These two caustic writers, so wellknown for the severity of their criticisms. were handled on this occasion without gloves, and are said to have been effectually paid back in their own coin by

Dr. Norcom, although comparatively young man in his profession, has made a reputation in this discussion which is not confined to this country. His posi tion and arguments are endorsed by the leading physicians of America and Europe who believe in the doctrines of what is known as the restorative school of medicine. Drs. Gaillard and Anstie belong to this school, and sustain Dr. Norcom in the discussion between himself and Dr. Satchwell. The rare ability, extensive reading and medical research shown by Dr. Norcom in this debate, have extorted the admiration of those who oppose his views. and give promise of a brilliant and distinguished career for him in his chosen profession. HON. S. H. ROGERS. We are under obligations to Hor. Sion H. Rogers, for several valuable

MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE.—The tolowing announcement appears in the Evening Post of yesterday, under the head of "married:" "Matthews-Smith. -At the Church of the Incarnation, on Sunday, May 10, by the Rev. G. H. Houghton, D. D., J. B. Matthews, to Ida Smith." Mr. Matthews is a son of the well-known millionaire, Edward Matthews, and is about 24 years old, while his bride, under the name of Ida Harlan, was at one time a member of the Lydia Thompson dramatic company. The happy pair are said to have sailed for Europe the day of their marriage.-New York Sun, 24th.

Mr. Sumner's health has undergone a marked change for the better. He expresses the opinion that the coalition which ousted M. Thiers from power will not be able to agree on a common policy, and says that the change will not be permanent. He believes that the Republicans will ere long come into power in France, and that they will only have to wait for the election of a new Assembly, which cannot be long deferred,

The wheat crop in the vicinity of Greensboro has been very much damaged by the protracted rains. So says the Patriot. The Newbern District Methodist Episcopal Conference convened at Wilson yesterday, and will continue over Sunday. The Piedmont Press is glad to see several bales of cotton in Hickory awaiting shipment, and says, cotton seems to do well in Catawba. Hannaford, of the Magnolia Mon itor complains of the people that come in the office and call for Hannah Ford.

The "ladies feast and fair" at Weldon on next Tuesday promises to be a successful affair. The proceeds are to be applied towards the building of an Episcopal Church.

Says the Wilmington Star: "Gen. R. E. Colston, of this city, is announced as having arrived at Cairo, Egypt, to assume the duties of a professor in the polytechnic school there, and also that of a Colonel in the Egyptian army.

Wilmington has a queerly-shaped dead chicken. It was born dead, and had a double bill and four legs. Two of the legs were connected with the heart, facing to the front, and two near the tail, facing to the rear.

It has now one of the liveliest and most readable newspaper in the State, with an editorial staff, second in ability to none. We wish the Press continued success.

Judge Clark-ee attended the Methodist Sunday school in Magnolia and spoke a piece" to the pupils on Sunday last. The Monitor says: "We were glad to see him there and to feel that he reflected honor upon his high official position by thus giving his influence to the cause of morality and religion in the presence of those young people."

We can only add that we hope the Judge feels better since this effort and will act accordingly.

The Charlotte Observer is responsible for the following:

"There is an old gentleman in Iredell county by the name of Mays, who is now 86 years of age. He yet works his farm himself, and with a little assistance in that work, makes a good living for his family. The old gentleman is hale and hearty, and in the course of his long life has had but few sick days. We have these facts from a son of Mr. Mays, a youth of 60 years. He denies the reports that have been spread abroad to the effect that he had been looking for an opportunity for a shot at Mr. Wilson, the slayer of Andrew Strong, and says that he has nothing against him. It is rumored, however, that there is some trouble between Mr. Wilson and the mulatto squatters in Scuffletown, and threats, it is said, have been made against him. Some parties account for this by the fact that Wilson has loaned money to some of the Scuffletonians, and so they would rather drive Wilson away than to pay back the money. Art Treasures in New York.

From the Journal of Commerce. The Metropolitan Museum of Art has taken the Douglas mansion on Four . teenth street, near Sixth avenue, on a lease for a term of years, and commenced to fill it with collections in every department of art. The plan combines the accumulation of art treasures as the permanent property of the museum and the exhibition of articles loaned by their possessors. The intent is in the end to illustrate by examples the history of art, and to show the beauty of art in every department, useful as well as ornament.

General Di Cesnola, United States Consul at Cyprus, an antiquarian by taste and an accomplished scholar, devoted himself to excavations in that island until he had unearthed what is without dispute the only collection in the world illustrating Phenician art. Its great archeological importance consists in its supplying the link between Asiatic and European ancient art. It consists chiefly of statues, vases, terra cotta figures, bronzes, jewelry and glass. The vases number several thousand. The glass collection includes 1,600 spe-

These articlas were chiefly found at the sites of the ancient cities of Golgos and Idalium. The temple of the Idalian Venus was celebrated in the Greek period. Paphos, where General Cesnola proposes to excavate hereafter, was scarcely less celebrated. He opened more than two thousand tombs of the Phenician and Greek period. The tombs were places of old art, especially of vases. The sites of temples were abundant in their yield of statuary. The collection of vases covers a period of time from B. C. 1,200 to A. D. 200 Several hundred lamps of the Greece-Roman period, beautiful in shape and often beautifully ornamented are the most modern articles in the collection. Some two or three hundred vases, with veay simple decoration in black, are of the earliest date, about B. C. 1200. The various forms of vases are almost as numerous as the vases. Almost every form known to art is represented Several puzzle jugs are here, and vases in forms of beast sand animals abound. The decoration is archale. There is no beauty of art in paint, although an immense deal in form.

The terra-cotta figures include a large number of nude representations of Venus, and one of the bearded Venus. There are numerous nude representa tions of horses and their rides. One shows the ancient bridle plainly. No one rode with stirrups in those days. There is a funeral procession in terracotta-donkeys carrying baskets for vases to be placed in the tombs, musicians, mourners, and the dead body on a bier. Some small figurines of the Greek period are of great beauty.

Among the bronzes are numerous hatchets, axes, spears, knives, needles, stands for vases, mirrors, &c., &c.

There are a perfect lock, key and hasp, several semi-decayed locks, perfect buckles, with tongues, rings, style for writing on wax, &c. Iron is very rarely preserved from ancient times, as it ozidizers rapidly. There are here a few fragments of it only.

The glass is the glory of the collection. It is gorgeous in the splendor of decay. The most brilliant opals carried into cups would not be half so fine. The iridescence is beyond description. Many objects are in original condition, but those which have gone through the process of disintegration of substance are far more superb than the most brilliant products of arts. This glass dates from B. C. 1210 to B. C. 700. It includes a great variety of shapes in cups, goblets, bottles, plates, candlesticks, &c., &c.

A BRAVE SAILOR GIRL.-A late steamer brought to New York a girl by the name of Maggie, alias Billy Armstrong, who has served before the mast five years in British ships, without revealing her sex. A knock-down fight among the sailors on board the last ship on which she was employed, resulted in an almost fatal accident to her, and before she had fully recovered, she confessed her whole story to the captain's wife. When she was only fourteen years old, she ran away from her home in Trenton, New Jersey, after having dress ed herself in her brother's clothes, and on arriving in New York she engaged herself as one of the hands on board a treight steamer, which was then about going to London. She endured the passage without experiencing any sickness, and on arriving in London, took her wages, and lived in the city three weeks. She then learned that the steamer was going to China, and on making application to the captain, she was again engaged as one of the deck hands. She procured a sailor's chest and recruited her wardrobe with a set of oil-skins, and became a common tar. During the five years which she has spent on the sea, she has visited all the principal ports of the world, and expresses herself as delighted with the life she has led. She is now visiting her home in New Jersey, and contemplates making another voyage in a few months. Of course there will now be lots of girls before it was discovered that strychnine who will undertake to become sailor boys, and visit all the ports in the world.

Woman's Voice. How consoling to the mind oppressed above named labus can get in first of August, 1873.

The subscriber will take pleasure in showing any person over the aforesaid w. W. COX. by heavy sorrow is the voice of an amiable woman! Like sacred music, it imparts to the soul a feeling of celestial serenity, and as a gentle zephyr, refreshes the wearied sense with its soft and tones. Riches may avail much in the house of affection; the friendship of man may alleviate for a time the bitterness of woman; but the angel voice of a woman is capable of producing a lasting effect on the heart, and communicates a sensation of delicious composure, which the mind has never before experienced, even in the moments of its highest telicity.

A woman has no natural gift more bewitching than a sweet laugh. It is like the sound on the water. It leaps from her in a clear, sparkling rill, and the heart that hears it feels as if bathed in the cool, exhilarating spring. Have you ever pursued an unseen tugitive through the trees, led on by a fairy laugh, now here, now there, now lost, as to them and judgment granted according to the complaint.
Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Concord, this 14th May, 1873.

JOHN A. McDONALD, laugh, now here, now there, now lost, now found? We have; and we are pursuing that wandering voice to this day. Sometimes it comes to us in the midst of care, or sorrow, or irksome business, and then we turn away and listen, and hear it ringing in the room like a the cyll spirits of mind. How much we ove to that sweet laugh! It turns prose to poetry; it flings flowers to sunshine over the darkness of the wood in which we are travelling; touches with SEVEN DOLLARS PER BUSHEL. light even our sleep, which is so no more than the image of death, but is consumed with dreams that are the shadows of immortality.

This is strictly a HOME LIFE COMPARY.

Its Officers and Directors are citizens of the State, of high character for business capacity, enterprise and probity, It offers every SUBSTANTIAL BENEFIT hat N orthern Companies do, with the great additional consideration that the capital is kept within the State, and, therefore, helps to build up and foster Home Institutions. Another importan tfact to be considered as that the Wilmington Live has thus far obtained A VERY MUCH LARGER INTEREST for the money invested at home, than any of the New York Companies receive for their investments, according to their sworn statements before the Commissioner of that

These unquestionable facts should commend this company, above all others, to our people. Let it be born in mind that millions of dollars received for Life pre-miums have been sent North since the war, which at once arains the South and enrices the plethoric capitalists of the North. If there was no other consideration, safety, fairness and cheapness being equal, why North Carolinians should Insure AT HOME.
